Student Notebook Collection

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY. AUGUSTUS C. LONG HEALTH SCIENCES LIBRARY.

Student notebook collection, 1786-1964.

Circa 14 cubic feet (174 volumes, 44 folders)

SCOPE AND CONTENT: This collection of student notebooks ranges in date from 1786 to 1964. They were created by 84 students – largely medical students, but also including students of nursing, dentistry, and pharmacy. While most of these notes are in bound volume form, there are also loose notes which are now housed in folders and boxes.

The medical notebooks were created almost entirely by students at what is now the Columbia University Vagelos College of Physicians & Surgeons (P&S). Among the exceptions are notes of John Kearny Rodgers from his studies in London with Sir Astley Cooper, Henry Green and John Abernethy in 1817-1818 and notes in German by an unknown student of the physiology lectures of Carl von Voit in 1888-1889, presumably at Munich.

Among the many P&S faculty whose lectures are recorded in this collection are Dana Atchley, William Bull, Alonzo Clark, Francis Delafield, William J. Gies, L. Emmett Holt, David Hosack, Smith Ely Jelliffe, Herman Knapp, Charles McBurney, Valentine Mott, Willard Parker, John Augustine Smith, M. Allen Starr, Lewis A. Stimson, T. Gaillard Thomas, and Robert F. Weir.

The notebooks are arranged in alphabetical order by name of the note taker. Following the name, information is in the following order: name(s) of lecturer(s); dates; subjects; and notes.

Researchers should be aware that the subject terms used here typically follow the students' own terminology, much of which is now obsolete.

Archives & Special Collections continues to add to this collection through donation and purchase.

CITE AS: Name of Author, Student Notebook Collection, 1786-1964. Archives & Special Collections, Columbia University Health Sciences Library.

PROVENANCE: The collection has been created through donation and purchase since at least the mid-20th century. In many cases no provenance information is available.

NOTE: Will have accruals with new acquisitions.

Novak, Head, Archives & Special Collections, with the assistance of Cameron Mitchell, Library Assistant. 20 volumes and 1 document box of materials by Frederick A. Wurzbach Jr. were removed and added to a 2021 accession to form a separate personal papers collection. This finding aid is updated as new items are acquired.
